Natural Gas Field Tech

January brings us into the field for our Gravity spotlight on Cody Privett, Natural Gas Field Technician in Oklahoma City. Cody has been with Gravity since 2018 and has made an impression on Gravity employees and customers.

From Cody:

"Growing up in a hard-working family in Noble Oklahoma, I helped work the family farm as a kid which taught a strong work ethic and drive. My father of course always set a great example. He is a hard-working man and taught me that nothing in life is given and you have to work hard for everything you want in life. I have always appreciated and follow that example in own my life.

As a young adult, my first jobs were contract jobs like roofing houses, tree trimming and removal, and concrete work. On the side, I have always worked on cars and trucks which is my passion. My whole family has always worked on cars, trucks and tractors so it was only natural that I would pick that up. To be honest, working on equipment is one of the many reasons I decided to come to work at Gravity. I have spent a lot of my life bouncing from job-to-job, but I could never find a place that I knew I wanted to stay. Since coming on board with Gravity, I know now that this in the place and the field I belong and want to be in. There are always different challenges and I get to work on equipment which, as I said I have always enjoyed. Everyone I have worked for has always complimented me on my attitude and work ethic. I will always stay committed to setting the example for others just as my father and brothers have done for me."
